S. A. Douglas Hamilton, a well known character whose home is at Seid was committed to the state hospital for the insane Saturday night. He is accused of attempting to assault an 8 year old girl, daughter of a well known family, Saturday morning. He was committed to the asylum on the recommendation of Drs. W. H. Davis and J. H. Robert of Albany. Hamilton has been a familiar figure on the streets of Salem as a curb-stone preacher. With a sign on his hat announcing his name and profession, he has delivered many "sermons," listened to by the idly curious. He has been considered harmless heretofore.

With the advent of the summer months, the thirst of several people living in Salem and vicinity appears to be increasing. For the month of July, 563 persons made an affidavit that the legal amount of booze could be shipped them. Almost all of these shipments were for the regulation two quarts of whiskey. The regulation drinkers in and around these parts are not much on beer, although several shipments were made by freight from San Francisco. Horabrook appears to be losing its hold on the habituals as the orders are now about breaking 50-50 with that suburb of Oregon and San Francisco. At the beginning of the year, Horabrook had the long end of the string, but it appears that the Horabrook dispensers were not able to hold the business. The legal amount of spirituous liquors is two quarts for every four weeks.

W. C. Dyer leaves this evening for St. Louis, Missouri, to attend the sessions of what is known as the $100,000 club. This is made up of agents of the Missouri State Life Insurance company who have sold $100,000 worth of life insurance during the past year, ending July 24. As Mr. Dyer is able to qualify, he will be presented with transportation to St. Louis and return and all expenses.

With a total rainfall of 2.92 inches for the month, July of 1916 closes with the record of the wettest month for the past 25 years. July of one year ago received a rainfall of only .99 of an inch. The river also makes a record for 25 years or more, as the average gauge for July was 3.2 feet above. One year ago the July average was .1 below zero. The temperature has been much below the normal, as the minimum night temperatures have ranged between 48 and 56 and the maximum day temperatures, between 62 and 81. Twenty one days have been cloudy and the heaviest rain for any day was on the 23d when the government gauge showed a rainfall of one inch in the 24 hours.

With the formal opening of the beach, heretofore to be known as "Riverside Dip," tomorrow evening, the bathing season will be on in Salem. Yesterday, there were 500 paid admissions into the ground and about 100 children under the age of 15, to which the beach is free. It is figured that more than 2000 will take advantage of the opening tomorrow night, with the band playing and the swimming matches adding to the pleasure of the evening.

Lai Cow, a Chinaman employed at the Croisair ranch south of the city met with a serious accident this morning. He was driving a hop sprayer into town for repairs when the team became frightened, throwing Lai Cow head first into the machinery. His head was seriously cut in several places with a six inch gash across the top and the scalp over the right eye badly torn. Dr. O. B. Miles, Dr. E. E. Fisher and Dr. Garabost were called and carried the injured man to the Willamette sanatorium for treatment. The team ran from a point outside the city limits to Mission and Commercial street and was finally stopped by a woman.

See to it that your children's eyes are thoroughly and scientifically examined. You, as parents, owe this precaution to them and should not fail to do your part in correcting your child's vision before it is too late. I make a specialty of correctly fitting children's eyes and do not use drugs or drops in making examinations as they are dangerous.

If after making the examination I find they need no glasses, I will frankly tell you. My charges are very reasonable and I replace broken lenses while you wait. I guarantee satisfaction in every respect. Ask your neighbors about me.

TO ASK INDICTMENT OF BOMB SUSPECTS

Mrs. Mooney Identified As Woman with Billings When He Had Suit Case

San Francisco, July 31--Indictments making formal charges against Edward Nolan, Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings in connection with the San Francisco suit case dynamiting will be asked by District Attorney Fickert when the grand jury meets tonight. Fickert announced today that he would urge the grand jury to charge the men with murder in the first degree. These announcements followed the identification of Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of the suspect, by Miss Estella Smith as a woman she saw with Warren Billings when he carried a suit case to the roof of a building at 721 Market street shortly before the explosion. The identification was positive, Miss Smith declaring she could not be mistaken.

Coroner Leland announced today that the inquest into the deaths of the bomb victims would begin tomorrow. The police are making a wide search for a man known as "Big Swede" or "Big Monte", supposed to have information regarding the dynamiting which may have an important bearing on the case.

Bit by bit the police have pieced together the net of evidence in the case and today Captain Matheson, in charge of the bomb squad, offered for the first time what he believes were the incidents leading up to the placing of the infernal machine on July 22.

"I believe the bomb was to have been thrown from in front of 721 Market street," said Matheson. "Billings and Mrs. Mooney had sought a place on the roof of this building, according to Miss Estella Smith, the stenographer. They were to have been taken there, we believe, by Isidor Weinburg and Julius Kohn, who were to have whisked them away later in automobiles."

"We believe the plot was aimed at the United Railroads division of the preparedness parade, and that the bomb was timed for 2 o'clock, when that division was due to pass. Mooney, Weinburg and Kohn waited on the sidewalk outside while Billings and Mrs. Mooney went upstairs with a suit case.

"I believe that, as 2 o'clock neared, they feared the bomb might have been mistimed or that the United Railroads division would not pass on time. They hurried towards where the United Railroads men were lined, we believe. That they did not reach there was due to the way in which the police handled the crowd. We believe the persons involved took a chance, put down the suit case and fled."

Matheson said one more man who, he declares, was a prominent figure in the alleged plot has yet to be apprehended.

It is rumored that the following prices will prevail for the Ford cars the coming year, beginning August 1: Ford touring car, delivered in Salem, $413.25; Ford runabout, Salem price, $398.25; Ford chassis, delivered price, $375. The probabilities are there will be no change in the model. It is said that these prices are guaranteed not to be lower for the year, but they may be higher. If this rumor of price is correct, for the coming year, Fords will be $80 cheaper than last year.

R. H. Mills, local manager of the Spaulding Logging company, returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he has just opened an office in the C. C. Ingrove, who has been traveling for the company will be placed in charge. The opening of an office in San Francisco by the Spaulding Logging company was found to be advisable on account of the company's increased business in that state and the general favorable conditions of the lumber business.

The funeral of E. P. McCormack who died Friday morning, was held at 10:30 o'clock today from the Moody home on Court street. The services were conducted by the Rev. Carl H. Elliott of the First Presbyterian church. Members of the DeMolay commandery served as an escort to the City View cemetery where the burial was according to the Masonic ritual, conducted by members of Salem lodge No. 4, of which Mr. McCormack was a member. During the services at the home, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith sang "When the Roses Bloom" and "My Task." The honorary pall bearers were nephews of Mr. McCormack. The active pall bearers were Justice George H. Burnett, E. M. Croisair, Dan J. Fry, Robert Downing, T. B. Kay and R. P. Boise.

No Hope for Relief For Starving Poles

Washington, July 31--The French foreign office, through Ambassador Sharp at Paris, has sent a Polish relief memorandum to the state department announcing its views coincide with those expressed in England's memorandum of a few days ago. It now rests with Germany to decide whether the central powers will meet the conditions demanded by Great Britain.

Germany Will Not Agree

Washington, July 31--Germany's reply to England's last and final proposal for Polish relief was received at the state department today from Ambassador Gerard. It is understood that the German government refuses to meet the demand of England and that the chances of reaching a Polish relief agreement are very slight. The department has not yet made public the text of the reply.

M. J. O'Brien Held Until Friends Arrive

"Chief, I wish you would send me to the insane asylum." This request made by M. J. O'Brien, of Canas, Wash., who had applied for lodging at the police station Saturday night and had been permitted to sleep there, changed the aspect of the case from one of common vagrancy to something more interesting. He had just been turned out yesterday morning when he made the request. Chief Welch questioned the man and drew forth the information that his home was at Canas and that he had made over his property to his family and left them. He had lost his job. He wanted to be taken care of, and he did not much care whether he was sent to the asylum or the penitentiary. He did not impress the officer as being insane, but seemed to be in a condition of dependency, and for fear he might commit suicide he was locked up.

After traveling through Idaho, Washington and parts of Oregon looking for a desirable location for a home, Dr. Albert Morefield and family had no desire to travel farther after they had visited Salem and vicinity for several days. In fact, Dr. Morefield was so impressed with this part of the Willamette valley, that he purchased, through the agency of J. E. Scott, a 50 acre tract on the Asylum road four miles east of the city. The transaction was for $8100 cash. Dr. More-

The boys at the Oregon State Training school are making hay while the sun shines not metaphorically speaking, but as an actual fact. The hay-making season is now on at the school as well as other parts of Marion county, and 50 of the boys are out in the fields getting some valuable farming experience.

While there may be some difference as to whether it is right or wrong to show moving pictures in a church as part of the regular evening services, there is no doubt but that movies in a church will do for business when it comes to increasing the attendance. Last evening at the First Congregational church, the church was crowded half an hour before the beginning of the services and hundreds were

Chief of Police Welsh is in receipt this morning of a letter from Dewey McElrath, who is a member of Co. M now stationed at Palm City, California. Dewey says: "Having fine weather down here. Some of the boys have been sick. I have been in the hospital two days. There have been two desertions so far. Both of them were cooks, one from the machine gun squad. Old Jim Walton was put in the guard house tonight for staying in San Diego too long. All the boys are broke and are counting the days till pay day, which is August 6. There was a lot of fun in camp last night about twelve o'clock. The males got loose and started to kick hell out of things." The letter is dated July 27.
